Young Members held a very successful fund-raising event in March 2008 to launch the year's activities for FAWG. They marked International Women's Day with an evening of festivities titled: "Woman – in celebration of you" - a night of art, dance, poetry and song. This was very well attended and much enjoyed.

In 2009, Young Members organized a series of film nights as part of the celebrations to mark International Women's Day, 8 March. The film nights were organized from the end of February through March in conjunction with various High Commissions based in Suva and the Fiji Women's Rights Movement. These were FREE film screenings at the FIT Raiwai campus. The films shown were "Whale Rider" sponsored by the New Zealand High Commission; "Educating Rita" sponsored by the British High Commission and "Looking for Alibrandi" sponsored by the Australian High Commission. The sponsors provided refreshments and introduced the films. A donation box was placed at the film venue and the Young Members donated this collection to the FAWG Scholarship Fund.
